

SLO Highlight

Did you know?

According to Accreditation standards, your syllabus should contain the Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) for that course. If your course does not have SLOs yet, your syllabus should contain the measurable objectives for that course.

Need help determining SLOs for your course.

I will be happy to visit your department or division meetings to talk to you and your colleagues concerning SLOs and how to get started. Contact me at jsholars@mtsac.edu or at extension 4610.

The Academic Senate passed the COURSE-LEVEL STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES PLAN in Spring 2008.

According to the plan, 75% of active courses will have at least two course-level SLOs by June 2009. Let me know how I and the SLO Committee can help you meet this goal.
