Mount San Antonio College was a valuable partner in testing Carnegie Speech's NativeAccent® spoken-English training product for the web beginning in March, 2008. This program was implemented with an initial group of 100 students at Mt San Antonio College and valuable feedback was provided to Carnegie Speech.

Based on Mount San Antonio's efforts, the development team at Carnegie Speech was better able to identify and address issues that are revealed during a full load test. NativeAccent for the web was commercially released in 2008.

Carnegie Speech sincerely appreciates Mount San Antonio College's willingness to test our products and provide feedback and insight.
