

Journalism Wins

2/22/2016

Over the weekend, the journalism students attended the Associated Collegiate Press ACP/ California College Media Association CCMA awards banquet and won 14 awards- - all placing in the top three-- including Best College Magazine. This is a huge win for us because all of these wins were published on Digital Media. We competed against universities and watched as our awards were announced....SECOND PLACE: UCLA...FIRST PLACE: MT SAC.... and so on. We placed first above major universities in six categories, including Berkeley, UCLA and USC.

We are also the first college to partner with Evan Williams' Medium (founder of Twitter) and to win an award for a Best Magazine on Medium, other than the magazine Matter on Medium, who won a professional industry award and whose staffers include Mark Lotto from the NY Times and Bobbie Johnson from the Guardian.

And here are the wins:
