STANDING COMMITTEE
SENATE RULES
CHAIR

SENATOR KEVIN DE LEÓN

PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

SB 54 (De León) The California Values Act

PURPOSE

To protect the safety and well-being of all Californians by ensuring that state and local resources are not used to fuel mass deportations, separate families, and ultimately hurt California's economy.

BACKGROUND

The President's Executive Orders and the accompanying Department of Homeland Security memorandums outline a mass deportation strategy that will encompass a broad category of immigrants. These documents describe the federal government's plan to use local law enforcement as "force multipliers" for immigration enforcement, relying heavily on police to help deport the greatest number of people possible. Aggressive federal immigration enforcement strategies are already underway. ICE arrests in courthouses and outside of schools are alarming new trends that have had chilling effects in the immigrant community.

A relationship of trust between California's immigrant residents and our state and local agencies, including police, schools, and hospitals, is essential to carry out basic state and local functions. That trust is threatened when state and local agencies are involved in immigration enforcement.

Currently, at least 65-75% of all deportations nationwide are the result of collaboration between law enforcement agencies and Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) or Customs and Border Protection (CBP). This collaboration invokes widespread fear in immigrant communities. According to the Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles Chief of Police Charlie Beck recently reported that "sexual assault reports have dropped 25% among the city's Latino population since the beginning of 2017 compared with the same period last year, adding that reports of domestic violence have fallen by 10%."¹ For these reasons, it is necessary to evaluate the appropriate use of state and local resources for immigration enforcement purposes and recognize the devastating impact deportations have on a state with thousands of mixed status families, and a heavily immigrant workforce.

PROPOSAL

The California Values Act will provide essential safeguards to ensure that police, schools, health facilities, and courts remain accessible to all Californians and that California's limited resources are not diverted to practices that undermine the public safety.

1. Safe Zones—California schools, health facilities, public libraries, and courthouses will remain safe and accessible to all California residents, regardless of immigration status. Each shall establish policies that limit immigration enforcement on their premises to the fullest extent possible consistent with federal and state law.
2. Limitations on law enforcement—Senate Bill 54 prohibits law enforcement agencies (including school police and security departments) from using resources to investigate, interrogate, detain, detect, or arrest people for immigration enforcement purposes. Restrictions include:
 - Inquiring into an individual's immigration status.
 - Detaining a person based on a hold request from Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE).
 - Arresting a person based on a civil immigration warrant.
 - Participating in 287(g) agreements or any program that deputizes police as immigration agents.
 - Participating in border patrol activities, including warrantless searches.
 - Using immigration agents as interpreters.
3. Notifications and Transfers—Allows law enforcement to notify immigration authorities about individuals with certain offenses on their criminal records. Also allows for individuals to be transferred to immigration authorities, without a warrant, but only after being convicted of a crime. Both notifications and transfers will be subject to the crimes listed in a revised TRUST Act (2013).
4. Taskforce Participation—Local law enforcement will continue to be able to participate in multi-agency taskforces, such as those investigating human trafficking, cybersecurity, and drug trafficking, so long as immigration enforcement is not the primary purpose of the taskforce.
