RE: CCC-CSU Teacher Preparation (TPP) Collaboration Framework

I am pleased to bring to your attention the attached CCC-CSU teacher preparation framework, recently completed by the California Community College, Teacher Preparation Programs (TPP) in collaboration with the CSU Department of Educator Preparation and Public School Programs.

The main role of CCC TPPs is to provide support and development of model quality teacher preparation programs at the community college level. California community college teacher preparation programs support and align with teacher preparation/credential programs throughout California college systems, primarily the CSUs.

The framework is a result of several meetings with CSU, teacher preparation directors, a CCC technical assistance provider and Chancellor's Office staff. It will be distributed widely within the CSU and community college system to support regional cross-system TPP communities of practice to expand and diversify the teacher workforce in California.

If you have any questions regarding this collaboration, please contact:
Cynthia McFarland at cmcfarla@CCCCO.edu or (916) 324-4612
