The data below shows the total number of OR holds remaining. Now we are down to 10,125 Orientation related holds. The number is larger than just the Orientation because Vimi gave the all orientation related holds, not just the Orientation. Essentially, IT was supposed to expire Orientation holds at the last date of each term if/when the student never attended orientation. This is now happening, as it should. As a result, you see the following.

201830 (Winter 2019)	1813
201840 (Spring 2019)	2727
201910 (Summer 2019)	546
201920 (Fall 2018)	5039

All Orientation holds for terms that have already been completed have been expired and no longer exist in BANNER.

Just to recap, the Orientation hold goes on when a student applies for admission and is removed once the student completes the mandatory orientation or when the term for which the application was made has officially ended. Students who do not complete Orientation will be assigned this hold again if/when they ever apply again.
