| | Incomplete | Aligned | Additional Exemplary Elements |
|---|--|---|---|
| E1: Technology | Technology needs aren't clear, or issues related to technology access are not addressed. | All technology required for the course is listed and described in the course syllabus; each technology is listed in the learning unit that requires it; and resources for technology help are provided where appropriate. | Offers alternatives for students with technology impediments, and clearly delineates where/how students can get assistance with required course technology. |
| E2: Student Resources and Support | Information about how students access online student services and support is incomplete. | Syllabus outlines student support & well-being services in, at least, these areas: a) general student assistance, b) online academic supports; c) assistance with using technology; d) health and well-being resources; and/or e) resources for students with disabilities. | In addition to outlining student support resources, there are clear explanations and pathways for online students to access and utilize all needed resources. |
| E3: Universal Design for Learning (UDL) | Course content and activities are not aligned to UDL principles. | Course content and activities are aligned with core principles of UDLi.e., multiple means of representation, action & expression, and/or engagement. | Syllabus explains how and why online course content and activities are aligned with specific UDL principles. |
| E4: Diversity and Inclusion | Nothing present that indicates that diversity is valued in the course. | Diversity is explicitly valued in a diversity statement in the course syllabus, and at least 3 course activities require students to analyze course content from multiple perspectives. | Throughout the course, learning activities demonstrate that diverse ideas and perspectives are valued in the course, and students are challenged to analyze how diversity fosters learning. |

| E5: Images and representation | Images and representations of people are homogenous and/or stereotypical, without acknowledgment or explanation. | Images and representations are diverse, and/or the instructor acknowledges the lack of diversity and provides a platform for discussion around representations and stereotypes. | Images and representations reflect broad diversity, and course activities encourage students to analyze representations and stereotypes throughout the course. |
| E6: Human Bias | Human biases (e.g interaction bias, implicit bias, etc.) are not clearly addressed. | Human biases are acknowledged, and instructor provides information about how to address and handle different types of bias in the class. | Instructor shares how they work to manage their own biases, and empowers students to identify, learn about, and address human biases. |
| E7: Content Meaning | There are no clear connections between course content and students' lives. | At least three course activities require students to connect course content to their own lives and/or reflect on course content is relevant to their futures. | Multiple course activities require students to connect course content to their sociocultural backgrounds and/or the socio-cultural backgrounds of others. |
| E8: Connection and Belonging | Sudent connections and a sense of belonging within the course are not fostered through course communications and activities. | Course communications and activities foster personal connections among students, and demonstrate the instructor cares about each unique student's participation and success in the class. | Course communications and activities deepen connections among class participants, and encourage students to connect to your institution and the discipline more broadly. |

The criteria above, E1 - E8, are designed to be used in conjunction with, and not separate from, the California Community Colleges - Online Education Initiative (OEI) Course Design Rubric.
