This is very exciting news. When we were unsuccessful with the AANAPISI, Part F, competition due to extra points being awarded to new applicants, we decided to go for this Part A competition. The only way we were eligible was by submitting a cooperative application.

This honestly works out better than if we had received the Part F funding. This award is $2.5 million over five years, larger than the individual grant, which would have been $1.5 million. It will enable us to accomplish what we had originally proposed in our individual application while also strengthening our transfer partnership and data sharing with Cal Poly.
