

Pomona Regional Learning Collaborative Second Convening
08/05/2016

Dear Pomona Regional Learning Collaborative Partners!

I hope you're enjoying a splendid summer. We are gearing up for our second RLC convening which has been scheduled for September 26th from 8:30AM - 1:00PM at Claremont Graduate University. Please RSVP to Amber Kea-Edwards <amber.kea-edwards@cgu.edu> and save the date!

I would like to thank all who attended the first Regional Learning Collaborative (RLC) convening and contributed to a very successful launch. We had 30 of 30 expected participants in attendance and 18 who were unable to attend but committed to engage with us to advance college and career success for students in the region.

We accomplished quite a lot in our first convening: arrived at shared mission and norms for the RLC, developed priorities for our work together, interacted with insightful presentations of data and best practice from our speakers, and engaged in meaningful discussions about current challenges and latest innovations. For our next steps, we collectively landed on three focus areas: (a) operationally defining college and career success, (b) identifying common metrics for measuring expected outcomes, and (c) further developing our shared vision and strategic plan.

In preparation for these lines of action, we will follow shortly with summary documents from the first convening, a brief survey to gather information on the focus areas above, and a portal to upload relevant materials for review in advance of our convening.

In the meantime, please remember to RSVP and save September 26th! We are excited to continue learning and advancing our goals together.
